

Andreas Karatsaidis DMD, PhD

Specialist in oral surgery and oral medicine, implantologist

- Dental graduation, Karolinska Institute Stockholm, Sweden in 1991
- PhD in oral biology, University of Oslo, Norway in 2004
- Clinical specialist oral and maxillo-facial surgery and oral medicine, University of Bergen, Norway in 2009
- Researcher at the Department of oral biology, University of Oslo, Norway

Languages: Swedish, Greek, English, Norwegian, French

Work focus: extraction (e.g., wisdom teeth, impacted teeth), implant, bone and soft tissue reconstruction/augmentation, cyst, root resection, oral medicine (disease of oral mucosa and bone), transplantation of teeth, any treatment under sedation and general anaesthetics for disabled and anxious patients, emergencies.